Galland Henning Nopak, Inc. Announces New President

Milwaukee, WI, January 11, 2010 – Galland Henning Nopak, Inc. (GHN) announced today that Steve Iram was appointed the new President by the GHN Board of Directors. Mr. Iram will succeed Daniel Steele who will remain as Chairman of the Board of Directors.

Prior to Galland Henning, Iram, spent fifteen years with HUSCO International in a series of increasingly responsible positions, including production, manufacturing operations and program management. Iram, a former U.S. Army officer, is a graduate of United States Military Academy at West Point and holds an MBA from Marquette University. Iram also serves on the Board of Directors for Racine Federated Inc.

“The Board of Directors of Galland Henning Nopak is delighted that Steve Iram will be joining us as our next President. We are convinced that he has exactly the right combination of energy, experience and skill to lead the company to a growing and profitable future,” said Dan Steele, GHN Chairman of the Board.

Mr. Iram stated, “I am appreciative of the Board’s confidence in me to assume the responsibility to lead Galland Henning into the future. I am excited to be working with Dan and such a capable team of associates at GHN. Together we will focus on growth and delivering outstanding performance to our customers and shareholders.”
